Volunteer!

Don't forget we need everyone we can get to help at Warbirds. We have the reputation as a friendly club that runs a smooth operation, let's keep it that way. Dick Stewart is arranging the schedule for remote parking. Sign up for an hour, it's a big help for a little of your time. The Pig Roast is in need of helpers, last year Dave Moyer struggled to get help; talk to him, it's not hard work and it makes the crowd happy! Brian Pasternak has arranged for an Alex's Lemonade Stand booth on Saturday. An hour or two spent there will be appreciated – see Brian.

We are meeting at the field for the next couple of months. Meetings will start at 7:00 to give us maximum daylight.

At the May meeting I discussed an incident that happened at a local club. There was potential for serious injury that could have been avoided by maintaining proper distance from the pilots. Please look at the photo of the damages to a mini van. The dent is not from impact with the fuselage of a Stryker. The striped character of the damage comes from the propeller, and can be seen across the Rear window.

trash and debris when you finish flying for the day!

This causes me to worry about "Stryker War." I think we need to put more distance between the planes and the pits. Just imagine a face or body in place of that van.

Delaware R/C Club Meeting Minutes

General Membership Meeting of the Delaware R/C Club

Tuesday June 1, 2010

- President John Kirchstein called the meeting to order at 7:15PM. This was the first meeting at the field on the summer meeting schedule.
- Guests and New Members:
No guests were present.
- Show and Tell:
Jim Scrapffer had a zees park models Cessna 206 that he did a fine job building it
Has a steerable nose wheel and a brushless motor system. He modified the rear window to make it more realistic looking.
- Treasurer's Report:
Mark gave the treasurer's report . It is slightly down due to prepayments for Warbirds.
- Safety Report:
John said he has noticed a bit of in close hot dogging. It scares people.
- Old Business:
Mark needs help for the IMAC event this upcoming weekend. Please contact Mark ASAP since there are not a lot of volunteers to date
- New Business:
John told us that the meeting next month will also be a work party in prep for Warbirds.
John informed us that the NPRM has been seen and it looks like some upcoming Restrictions may be coming out of the Airport advisory commission in DC .
He told us a little the incident down in Florida with the girl and the helicopter and that the AMA has a war chest . Now for these type of things. This along with public relations.

A question was asked about the Wednesday of the Warbirds week can other than Warbirds plane be flown . They cannot because of the sanction. This is ultimately A decision of CD. (Contest Director) .

Tony has some tee shirts left that are from the original order he was selling and He had some dog tags for the pilots numbers at the warbirds event they should go for about 5 bucks. He also reminded everyone to get their order in if they want a tee shirt . Times getting short

Go to RCplaneware.com, it's a neat website.

- Meeting was adjourned at 7:50PM.
