AMA #197

FROM THE EDITOR

For many years now Model Airplane News has been a good friend to the Delaware R/C Club. Here is a chance to help them, and get famous at the same time. Model Airplane News has a column called Pilot Projects where they feature photos of builders with their airplanes along with information about the planes. Lately, MAN has been having problems getting submissions for the Pilot Projects column. Gerry Yarrish, a senior editor at MAN, reached out to his contacts at the Delaware R/C Club asking for submissions for the Pilot Projects column. Here is your chance to get your photo in a national magazine. Have someone take a high res photo of you with your latest build, and send to MAN@airage.com along with your name, city and state, the model and details like radio gear and power system.

FAA & AMA legislation

- ✿ A discussion was opened to discuss the future of our hobby with respect to the FAA and their recent actions that effect it. Tom DiCuirci started the discuss to briefly share what action have been taking place
- ✿ Mike Denest was a valuable resource during the conversation providing his insight and some potential actions the club could take to bring light to out representatives and share our mission as a club practicing responsible model aviation. The conversation was joined by many other inputs. The 400 foot rule was discussed. It was pretty disturbing to hear that it was imposed. At the end of the day, its still pretty high.
- ✿ There will be further discussions about this in the future and everyone is encouraged to become involved and educated to help the hobby.

Elections

- ✿ Ron Becker stepped up to nominate himself as a new treasurer. Members present voted to put him in office and the motion was passed.
- ✿ Greg Shock was nominated to keep his office as Vice President, the club and moved the motion to vote and Greg remains our VP.

Flea Market

- ✿ The Flea Market tables completely sold out and we even had overflow into the hall way of the seniors center.
- ✿ We have received multiple comments on how nice it was.
